

CHILD LABOR LAW DELINQUENTS ARE FINED LIGHTLY

But Are Warned Next Offense
Will Merit the Limit.

"Guilty" Entered in the Four Cases Today.

PERMITS MUST BE SECURED.

Twenty dollars in fines was netted in police court this morning against four local factories for violating the state child labor law, and the money was ordered turned over to the public school treasury. Cases against two other firms were continued until Thursday morning and in the meantime State Labor Inspector Pat Filburn will continue his investigations which may result in more warrants being procured.

Practically no defense was offered this morning in the four cases where children between the ages of 14 and 16 had been employed without having secured a permit from the school superintendent. Mr. Filburn emphasized the law that the employer must see that a permit is secured before he takes the child, and unless this is done it is an open violation, though done through ignorance of the law on the part of the employer. One question raised in the court this morning was not clearly construed. If a child obtains a certificate to work at a certain place will he be compelled to obtain a second certificate in case he quits and is employed elsewhere. It is the opinion of City Attorney A. Y. Martin that a second permit should be issued by the school superintendent, who should be the sole judge as to the safety of the work and should have the power of discretion in issuing permits for certain kinds of work which are in some instances more dangerous to life and limb than others.

A child under 14 years old cannot be employed and must attend school. If he is between 14 and 16 years of age a permit must be obtained and the child cannot work before 7 a. m. or after 7 p. m. School Superintendent Carnagey raised the point whether newspaper carrier boys should obtain certificates and Mr. Filburn said it was necessary or prosecutions would follow. Where a boy buys his own papers and acts as a small merchant with no employer, the court has no jurisdiction. If a child is over 16 years of age he needs no permit.

In many instances Paducah factories have received children accompanied by their parents, who say they are over 16 years of age. Then the employer is not to blame unless he does not discharge the child after the truancy officer has notified him to the contrary. If he does not discharge the child he will be allowed ten days in which to prove that the child is 16 years old or past.

It was a clear case of open violations among the four firms arraigned this morning and Judge Cross let them off with a light fine of $5 for the first offense. Any subsequent offense will result in the limit in fines.

HOUSED BY HIS WIFE'S SPIRIT, SEEKS DIVORCE

Kansas City, Dec. 20.—In a petition for divorce filed in the circuit court today, Marvin Minnear alleged that he has been haunted by his wife's spirit. It was more than he could stand. His wife, Anna Minnear, says the charge is based on her power to have her spirit follow him.

Dr. Dodd Returns

Dr. M. E. Dodd, pastor of the First Baptist church, who was recently issued a call to become pastor of the Twenty-second and Walnut Street Baptist church, Louisville, the largest Baptist denomination in the state, returned last evening after delivering a sermon Sunday from the pulpit in that city. Wednesday evening at the prayer meeting services Dr. Dodd will make a statement of his offer to his congregation, but has reserved his decision until next Sunday morning.

"My definite decision," said Dr. Dodd today, "will be made to my congregation Sunday, as I am not yet ready to make any statement." Should the Rev. Mr. Dodd accept the offer the Baptist church here would lose one of its most eloquent and ablest pulpits orators and workers.

The pastorate of the Louisville church was made vacant November 1 by the resignation of Dr. M. P. Hunt, who resigned to go to Colorado for the benefit of his health.

Government and City Detectives Battle at Memphis, When Each Posse Mistakes Other For Outlaw Band

Revenue Officer Is Seriously
Wounded—Neither Party
Knew That Other Was Out on Hunt.

Memphis, Tenn., Dec. 20.—Each party mistaking the other for whiskey thieves that both were attempting to capture, federal authorities early today were fired on by city detectives near a robber's shantyboat on the river front and returned the fire. T. H. Baker, Sr., United States revenue collector at the port here, was shot and seriously wounded by City Detective Thomas Shea.

Frequent robberies of whiskey from the government storehouse caused Collector Baker, United States Marshal Zack Jolly and T. H. Baker, Jr., to plan a raid on the houseboat. City detectives were assigned also to raid the shantyboat, the result of recent house robberies. The raids were planned separately. Approaching the boat, the detectives fired on three men, observed in the bushes. Believing they were fired upon by the thieves, the three government officers returned the fire.

Fire Destroys Newspaper in Jackson.
Jackson, Tenn., Dec. 20.—Fire of unknown origin destroyed the plant of the Jackson Democrat, a local daily newspaper. The flames were discovered by a passerby after they had gained great headway, and by the time the fire department reached the scene the building had been gutted.

PROSPECTING FOR OIL
AROUND REEF FOOT LAKE.
Hickman, Ky., Dec. 20.—A number of leases have been taken on land near Reef foot lake, about 12 miles south of Hickman, and work is now in progress for the purpose of prospecting for oil.

MOB IS FORMING TO STORM JAIL

PRISONER MURDERED FAMILY AND BURNED HOME TO CON-CEAL CRIME.

Durham, N. C., Dec. 20.—A negro, Nathan Montague, attacked Miss Mina Saunders, aged 20, cut her throat, and murdered her father, Leyton Saunders, and his grandchild, in their home near here early today. Attempting to hide his crime, Montague then burned the house and the bodies were partly incinerated. The sheriff captured the negro and landed him in jail. A mob is forming to storm the jail. The sheriff has called for state troops.

One Good Fellow to Other Good Fellows

Well, you and I and the other good fellows are going to celebrate Christmas in the same old way this year, are we not? We have observed it that way for a good many years, and there isn't any different way for us. Well, it's all right. Some people would not think so, but it is, and there is no use arguing with them about it. We do blow in a good deal of money—we have and we will—but it's ours. I guess all of us have provided for the children at home, too, and maybe sent something to the boy or the girl in the next block.

But there has always been a little bit of sorrow in the joy of the good time on Christmas Eve to me. I guess you fellows have felt it, too. It is unpleasant to think that Christmas means a day of bitter disappointment to somebody, and we usually try to forget, but I doubt if any of us has ever entirely succeeded. Somehow, no matter how fair the vision is, there is always a ragged, empty stocking dangling through the rainbow tints, and into the laughter there always creeps the sob of a child.

Let's get rid of that this Christmas—what do you say? Charity can look after the matter of food and clothes, but that does not mean much to the little tot who, in perfect confidence, hangs a stocking by the hearth. It does not take the heartache away when she finds on Christmas morning that Santa Claus forgot to come, or else maybe he is punishing her being bad. That is the sort of thing that always haunted me a little, in spite of the good cheer of the good fellows on Christmas Eve.

GOOD FELLOWS are requested to fill out the following blank and mail it to The Evening Sun or the PHILANTHROPIC DEPARTMENT of the Woman's club, 214 South Seventh street.

I will be Santa Claus to ——— children.

I will deliver the presents to "my children" myself.

or

I will want the department to deliver the presents to "my children."

QUIGLEY FUNERAL THIS AFTERNOON AT GRACE CHURCH

Masonic Lodge Has Charge of the Services at the Grave.

The Rev. E. C. McAllister Will Officiate.

BAR ASSOCIATION MEETING.

The funeral services of Col. Quintus Q. Quigley, who died yesterday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. George Langstaff, 890 Broadway, was held at 3 o'clock this afternoon at the Grace Episcopal church, the Rev. E. C. McAllister, pastor of Good Shepherd House, officiating. The Paducah lodge of Masons have charge of the funeral and burial will be in Oak Grove cemetery. The pallbearers are: Honorary—Major J. H. Ashcraft, Dr. D. G. Murrell, J. D. McQuot, J. L. Friedman, Dr. J. Q. Taylor, Charles K. Wheeler, D. H. Hughes, W. F. Bradshaw, Jr., Muscoe Burnett, Samuel J. Levy, George C. Wallace and Robert L. Reeves; active—Stephen Maynard, Rabb Noble, Oscar Kahn, Harry Hank, Alonzo Meyers and Cook Husbands.

Miss Katherine Quigley, of Vicksburg, Miss., a granddaughter, arrived today and also Mr. Clarence Quigley, a nephew, from Boston. Mr. Benjamin Warfield, a close friend of the family, arrived from Louisville to attend the funeral.

Bar Will Take Action.

In memory of Quintus Q. Quigley, one of the pioneer members of the Paducah Bar association, resolutions will be adopted. This morning a meeting was held at the court house and a committee consisting of James Campbell, John G. Miller, W. F. Bradshaw, John K. Hendrick, E. W. Bagby, and D. H. Hughes was appointed to draw up the resolutions. The association will meet at the court house tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock for the purpose of passing the resolutions.

This afternoon the members of the association assembled and attended the funeral in a body.

Jesse Ely.

Jesse Ely, 70 years old, died at his home in Massac at 9 o'clock last night of pneumonia after a short illness. He was a prosperous farmer, a member of the Methodist church and a member of the Massac lodge No. 360 of Masons. Surviving him are his wife, one daughter, Mrs. C. E. Potter, of Lone Oak, and three sons: Messrs. L. C. and D. J. Ely, of Massac and T. J. Ely, of Brookport, Ill. The funeral was held this afternoon and burial in the family.

Geese Not Blown Up

A marketer was tried by a jury in police court this morning on a charge of selling "blown up" geese and was found not guilty. The warrant was sworn out several days ago by Marketmaster Senser, but he proved that he had purchased them from a Graves county farmer, who testified that they were not blown up, but had been dressed and bled in steaming water.

NO ACTION TAKEN TO KEEP PROMISE

GENERAL COUNCIL HAS NOT APPROPRIATED $3,000 FOR PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

No action has been taken by the general council in regard to the $3,000 promised the schools at the beginning of the year and estimated in the budget; but the council board instructed City Solicitor Campbell to prepare an ordinance, appropriating to the use of the schools 35 cents of every $1.85 collected in taxes over the apportionment of $36,741.46. This money is collected under the levy for school purposes; but in the opinion of Mr. Campbell, sums thus collected above the original apportionment must be distributed by a new ordinance. The general council at the beginning of the year promised the school board $3,000, if there was a balance of that much at this time, and advised the trustees to act consider that additional amount in their plans for the year's work. All the conditions have been fulfilled.

Lorimer Exonerated By Committee on Privileges And Elections of Any Bribery in Getting His Toga

Report Made Today is Complete White-washing—Senate Overrules Vice-President as to Cloture.

Washington, Dec. 20.—The senate committee on privileges and elections today adopted a report, completely exonerating United States William Lorimer, of Illinois, of any connection with the charges that he was elected through corruption and bribery.

The senate passed the omnibus claims bill containing seventeen Kentucky claims.

No Cloture for Senate.

Washington, Dec. 20.—As a result of a ruling by Vice President Sherman that a senator having a pact with another senator could be counted to make a quorum, the senate, on motion of Senator Hale, refused to accept the dictum overruling it, 37 to 17. The refusal followed a protest voiced earlier in the day against a similar ruling made by Sherman Saturday. The case came up during the continued consideration of the omnibus claims bill.

Senator Bristow continued his filibuster against the bill. He prevented a vote and again forced the bill to go over.

While asking for a correction in the record of the senate, Senator Heyburn called attention to an error in the report of the manner in which he had expressed dissent, several days ago, from the suggestion that the tariff should be revised schedule by schedule. He had used the language that revision should be made as a political proposition as favored "but the real Republicans of the country."

"Who are the real Republicans?" asked Senator Bailey of Texas.

"I know them," was the reply, as the speaker's gaze swept the Republican corner.

Appointments Confirmed.

The senate in executive session this afternoon confirmed the nomination of Chairman Knapp, of the interstate commerce commission, to be chairman of the new commerce court. The senate reported favorably on the nominations of C. C. McChord, of Kentucky, and B. H. Meyer, of Wisconsin, to be members of the interstate commerce commission.

In the House.

Washington, Dec. 20.—The house early in the session fell into a parliamentary wrangle.

An investigation of Roosevelt's railroad transportation expenses while he was president is directed in a resolution introduced by Representative Rainey, of Illinois, Democrat. The resolution was sent to the committee. Rainey wants to know if any of these expenses were paid by Roosevelt or by any one acting for him.

Representative Bartholdt, of Missouri, introduced a bill providing for the restoration of the army canteen. As the result of a conference with New York and Chicago business men, Representative Mann, of Illinois, will introduce a substitute for the bill amending the pure food law for the branding of packages of food, drugs, medicines and liquors. The substitute provides that if the net quantity of the contents is not plainly marked on the outside of the package or measure, the article will be deemed a fraud.

The government could save $1,500,000 if it could have the battleship New York in a private yard instead of at New York navy yard, according to a statement of Chief Constructor Watt of the navy.

ELEVENTH BODY TAKEN FROM RUIN

IT IS BELIEVED NO MORE ARE TO BE FOUND THERE.

New York, Dec. 20.—The eleventh victim of yesterday's explosion in the New York Central terminal was recovered today. It is believed that there are no more dead, although rescuers are still searching the ruins. According to officials, all missing employed have reported. Among those injured, five probably will die of fractured skulls. The coroner and district attorney probably will fix responsibility today.

Derrick Kills Three.

Centralia, Ill., Dec. 20.—Fred Cady, 40 years old, was killed, and Joseph Estes, 30 years old, and William Harper, 31 years old, probably were fatally injured today when a 40-foot derrick broke under the weight of a three-ton block of stone used in the construction of a court house at Salem, Ill.

Henry Downs.

Henry, the 2½-years-old son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Downs, residing three miles from the city on the Cairo road, died at 7:30 o'clock this morning of pneumonia. The funeral will be held at the residence at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning and burial will be in Oak Grove cemetery.

Selling Quail Charged

A warrant was sworn out this afternoon against Edge Farmer by Marketmaster Albert Senser, charging him with exposing for sale quails or partridges at the city market-house. His case will be tried in police court this afternoon.

DRUNKEN FRENZY; UNPREMEDITATED

PRESIDENT TAFT COMMUTES
DEATH SENTENCE OF A SAILOR.

Washington, Dec. 20.—President Taft today commuted a death sentence to life imprisonment against John Wynne, convicted of murdering his shipmate, A. F. McKinnon, on the steamer Rosecrans in Honolulu harbor November, 1908. Wynne returned to the ship from shore intoxicated and killed McKinnon with a hammer as he slept in a bunk. He was tried in the United States court of Honolulu. The president wrote the commutation in his own hand, saying, "Where the purpose to kill is formed in a drunken brain, the intoxicated conditions rebute the inference of premeditation necessary for murder in the first degree. Drunkenness is no excuse for crime, but it may be inconsistent with a state of mind necessary to constitute a first degree of crime."

DIAZ IS AFRAID OF PRISONERS

HIS FOOD TASTED AND HIS BED CHANGED NIGHTLY.

Mexico City, Dec. 20.—Employing every precaution against assassins known to a deposed Ottoman ruler, President Diaz lives in fear for his life. It became known today that trusted servants taste all of his foods, and that he changes his sleeping apartments nightly. The streets surrounding his palace are closed to traffic. Diaz is continuing his efforts to bring back Gen. Bernardo Reyes whom he exiled to Paris.

FALLS HUNDRED FEET AND FEELS NEED OF CIGARET

Painter Considers Beauty of More Consequence Than Leg.

So, His Nose is Attended to First.

LIFE IS SAVED BY MIRACLE.

After an unbroken fall of 100 feet from the top of the water company's standpipe to the ground, G. J. Murray, 39 years old, a painter from Metropolis, Ill., lives to tell the tale, and with good prospects for his recovery.

Murray fell from the standpipe of the Paducah Water company this morning at 11 o'clock when a rope suspending him in the air, snapped. His left leg is fractured, his nose bruised, and he sustained numerous minor scratches over his body, but he is thought not to have suffered severe internal injuries.

Murray is unfortunate, as he started to work this morning, but is one of the nerviest patients that was ever admitted to Riverside hospital. Within a few minutes after he struck the ground he smoked a cigarette, and "joshed," the spectators who rushed to the scene, expecting to find the mangled form of a dead painter.

When the fracture of his leg was reduced Murray continued to puff on a cigarette and refused to take an anesthetic.

Wanted a Cigaret.

Murray this morning accepted the contract for painting the standpipe of the water company, and began work. He started at the top of the pipe and all went well until within 100 feet of the ground; then the rope snapped, and Murray fell. People on the streets saw Murray fall to the earth, and rushed to the scene. When Murray hit the ground he was still conscious, and his first request was for somebody to make him a cigarette, which he smoked.

When Dr. Stewart began to examine his leg Murray calmly said: "Look here, Doc, leave by leg alone and work on my nose first, I don't want my nose spoiled."

Murray described his descent as follows: "I felt myself falling and I said to myself I wonder if that nigger has let go of that rope. Then I thought I was going up. Then I looked down and that ground was rushing to me. Gee, but I must have made a hole in that ground! 'Bout that time 'Big Andy' Stewart rushed up and said, 'Are you hurt?'"

"Now that's a foolish question to ask me. Here make me a cigarette. After a fall like that a fellow's got a right to smoke."

The explanation of Murray's miraculous escape from death is that his descent was checked for an instant just before he reached the ground. When he started to work this morning he employed a negro to assist him. A fire was made on the ground and the rope was permitted to remain to close to the fire and it was weakened. As he was lowered to work the rope was drawn up and when the strain was placed on the burnt section of the rope it snapped. Within a short distance from the ground the rope caught on the pulley for an instant and Murray hit a little easier than he would otherwise.

While in bed at the hospital, Murray was smoking a cigarette and said: "This isn't so bad, if I could only eat Christmas turkey at home."

Billy Gallagher Dies.

San Francisco, Dec. 20.—Billy Gallagher, a sporting man of this city, who acted as timekeeper for the Hogan-Frayne fight yesterday, died last night as the result of a bullet wound received last night in a quarrel with Charles Long, a sheriff of San Mateo county. Long is under arrest.

Sought Cremation in Honor of Christmas.

Mayfield, Ky., Dec. 20.—Miss May Davis, aged 22 years, an inmate of the county poor farm, set her dress on fire from the grate and was burned on the body so badly that she cannot recover. She said that she was going to burn herself to death for Christmas.

Jim Roberts, keeper of the house, and Dr. J. O. Cavender had their hands seriously burned while trying to save the girl's life.

FELLOW SERVANT

SUPREME COURT AFFIRMS MISSISSIPPI COURT.

Includes All Employees and Section Labor Hazardous, According to the Ruling.

Washington, Dec. 20.—The supreme court of the United States upheld the constitutionality of the Mississippi law abrogating the fellow servant rule as to "every employee of a railroad corporation." It has been claimed that a section laborer could not be held to be engaged in a hazardous occupation and therefore that the law was unconstitutional.

The point arose in the case of Ray Hicks, of Newton county, Miss. Judgment for $7,500 in favor of his heirs was awarded in the Mississippi courts against the Mobile, Jackson and Kansas City Railroad company. The suit was then appealed to the supreme court.

Hicks was a section foreman employed by the railroad company. While at work a train became derailed and one car turned over on him, causing his death. Justice Lurton announced the opinion of the court.

The Christmas Holiday.

As Christmas will come on Sunday this year it would be well to have the following Monday observed as a general holiday. Everybody ought to have a real Christmas holiday. As Sunday is the day for the customary rest after the week's labor it should not be made to take the place of the holiday to which all look forward in the Christmas season. Naturally people will not feel like working on the Monday after the Sunday Christmas, business will be practically suspended and by general consent as well as by suitable proclamation it should be a day of rest and jollification.—Ex.

TURKEYS HIGH

CHRISTMAS BIRD WORTH 15 TO 25 CENTS.

Chickens Also Are Bringing High Prices on Market at This Season.

The Christmas turkey values his head just as much as his cousin, the Thanksgiving turkey, and is bringing about the same prices. There was some hope that the price might drop on the Christmas turkey, but the demand is just as great for this important bird, and what turkeys can not be sold in Paducah at the high price can be sold to the foreign market. Turkeys are retailing for 15 cents a pound on foot while the dressed turkeys sell for 25 cents a pound. It is certain that the price will not descend, while there is a prospect that it may go a few cents higher. Chickens sell on market from 25 to 60 cents.

Next Week—Flint, hypnotist. STAR—Family vaudeville. GEM—Pictures.

Good Bill at the Star.

A clean bill is on the first half of this week at The Star and the usual big houses witnessed the first night's performance. Julie Neilson, the Norwegian violinist, and Wurnelle, barrel jumper and roller skate dancer, put on a variegated act, embracing music and acrobatics, and Jack Davis and Cora Merrill gave a rapid fire conversational and character turn. Davis goes from low comedy to tragedy, by his impersonations of the Bowery tough and the Italian, and makes a big hit. The act was given an encore.

Phillips sang "When Sweet Marie Was Sweet Sixteen" in his usual effective manner and was roundly applauded.

Two reels of moving picture films complete the show.

shows last night to a fairly good house. After making a short talk on hypnotism and the genuineness in which he stated the danger of operators putting on tests, unless they were graduate physicians, he succeeded in getting a class of 16 volunteers out of which eight were found to be good subjects. With these he proceeded to give an interesting exhibition. Dr. Flint will be seen here for the remainder of the week.

Animal Magnetism.

Dr. Herbert L. Flint is one of those human beings singularly gifted with that quality known as animal magnetism, and as a part of his hypnotic entertainment he produces results that considerably surpass the wonderful feats of the "human magnets" whose work has attracted such wide attention. He causes articles to become so heavy that they cannot be lifted even by the greatest exertion, and then he causes the same articles to become endowed with a property which makes it impossible for those handling them to lower them to the floor. He makes it impossible for five men to hold a table still after he has started it vibrating, and he also makes it impossible for the young men on the stage to rise from their seats. He makes them walk backwards when they want to walk forward and forward when they want to walk backward. As he bows his farewell he leaves the audience wondering and mystified that such apparently superhuman and unnatural power should be possessed by so urbane and jovial appearing an entertainer. At the Kentucky all next week.

The barnstorming trip of the High school minstrel troupe was called off today owing to illness of several of the principals. The minstrel was booked at the theater in Hopkinsville tonight, and the students were expectant of a successful as well as pleasant trip.

First National Allowed to Set Stones

MINORS BUY AT THEIR RISK

The ordinance, regulating the charges that can be made for telephones in Paducah, was passed last night by the general council. The ordinance is based upon the Louisville ordinance.

The ordinance fixes the rate of $2.50 a straight line or $2 party line for business telephones, and $1.50 a month for residence telephones and $1 a month for extension phones. Each overcharge is a separate offense and is punishable by a fine of $10 to $50. When the ordinance becomes effective after the signature of the mayor and the official publication, warrants will be sworn out in the police court for every telephone, where an overcharge is made.

The ornamental lights extending on the sidewalks at the new building of the First National bank will remain without any bond to protect the city. Although the general council legally could not entertain a motion to permit the lights to remain

Reeves, president of the bank, made a short statement in which he said that the lights would be taken down at any time the members of the general council thought it necessary. The board of public works refused permission.

Both boards were called together December 31 at 9 o'clock in the evening for the purpose of holding the final session of the year, and disposing of the business of the year.

THE COUNCIL.

The board of councilmen received and filed a letter from Mayor Smith calling a special session for December 31 at 9 p. m. for the purpose of receiving the final report of Treasurer Walters, making the necessary allowances and passing an additional appropriation ordinance for the public schools. The boards will then meet for the last time this year and give way to the incoming boards.

Checks, amounting to $4,349.97 were ordered drawn against the special street fund in favor of A. J. Miller & Sons and J. E. Jones, contractors.

Permission was granted the First National bank to erect two standard light posts at its entrance on condition that they would be removed at any time the council sees fit if they interfere with public use of the sidewalk. The stone bases will extend 18 inches beyond the property line. President Robert Reeves made a short talk, saying that the posts are purely ornamental.

First and second passages were given the following measures: Ordinance making it unlawful for any person under 21 years of age to purchase spirituous, vinous or malt liquors without a written consent of parents or guardian; an ordinance fixing the salary of the sewer inspector at $900-per annum, beginning January 1, 1911, an ordinance giving the I. C. R. R. company right to build a spur track at Bridge and Owens streets, Mechanicsburg, near the coal tipples; an ordinance, fixing the maximum rate for telephones in the city at $2.50 for business phones and $1.50 for residence phones.

Ordinances were adopted exempting the following concerns from municipal taxation for a period of five years: Paducah Milling company, Leigh Banana Case company; Federal Crates and Basket company; Ayer-Lord Tie company. Councilman Duval voted against the Federal Crates and Basket company. An ordinance was introduced for the exemption of the Hayes Medicine company, but there was no second to the motion to place it on first passage.

An agreement was made between the city of Paducah and Ayer-Lord Tie company for the use of 280 feet of the public wharf at the foot of Jefferson street for the consideration of $5.

The board concurred in the action of the committee in awarding to the Fowler-Wolfe Sheet Metal Works the contract for installing drain pipes and gutters at Riverside hospital. The bid was $342.

A complaint from R. L. Tate for the reduction of the license of $50 per year charged him for operating a broom factory was received and filed and referred to the incoming license committee.

City Solicitor Campbell was instructed to draft an ordinance creating a bacteriological laboratory.

The following accounts and payrolls were allowed:
Street department $ 291.20
Sewer 92.00

Fire department	1,142.60
Police department	1,214.00
Electric plant	165.25
Oak Grove	57.75
Riverside Hospital	114.90
Sanitary Inspectors	60.00
City Scales	30.00
Inspector	32.50
Market master	37.50
Water Rentals	3,019.20
Fire department No 5	25.00
Interest Coupons paid by City National bank	652.50
Total	$7,234.40

All members were present as follows: Councilmen Foreman, Barnes, Budd, Duval, Hannin, Horton, Kreutzer, Lally, Leigh, Mayer, McCarthy and Wilson.

THE ALDERMEN.

Dispatch was the word at the meeting of the board of aldermen last night, and more business was transacted in less time than any previous meeting this year. The routine business was put through in a whirl and there was not any of that drag that has characterized the majority of the sessions. Alderman Will Farley was elected president pro tem, and with the use of his gavel he kept the members down to business, and no time was wasted in tireless discussions of unimportant subjects.

On motion of Alderman Stewart, the city solicitor was instructed to prepare the ordinance creating the bacteriological laboratory at the Riverside hospital, and to include it in the business of the special session, December 31. It will be the last session for Dr. Stewart, and he does not desire to go out of office without seeing his pet measure, at least, brought out from the dark recess of

A request was received for the reduction of the license on broom factories. The present license is $50 a year.

The salary of the city sewer inspector was increased from $60 to $75 a month.

The Leigh Banana Case company, the Ayer-Lord Tie company's dry docks, the Paducah Milling company and the Federal Crates & Basket company were exempted from city taxation for five years as each is a new industry.

Two passages were given the ordinance making it a violation of the city ordinance for minors to purchase liquors. The ordinance is in defense of the saloonkeepers, and any minor purchasing liquor without a permit from his parents or guardian is subject to a fine. The permit must state the amount that can be purchased. The saloon keepers say that the ordinance will be a protection when their licenses are revoked for selling liquor to minors.

The contract for the pipes and gutters at the Riverside hospital was awarded to the Fowler-Wolfe sheet metal works for $342. The contract was awarded by the hospital committee.

Warrants were ordered drawn on the city treasurer for $1,651 and $2,150 for A. J. Miller & Son and $188.54 for J. E. Jones.

Those present were: Aldermen Farley, Hank, Lacker, Ochelsieger, Potter, Stewart, and Van Meter.

If you mail a check for your city taxes it should reach the Treasurer two or three days before the last of the month, so he may be able to get it in his deposit on December 31. Otherwise it will have to include the penalty.

FREE SAMPLE CURED OLD PERSON'S BOWEL TROUBLE

One of the most remarkable proofs of the unusual laxative merit contained in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is that it is effective not only in people in the prime of life, but at the extremes of age. As many letters are received from mothers regarding the cures of children, as from men and women of sixty, seventy and eighty years of age. It must be truly a wonderful laxative.

In the cure of constipation and bowel trouble in old people it has no equal. It corrects the constipation, dispels the headache, biliousness, gas, drowsiness after eating, etc. People advancing in years should see to it that their bowels move freely, and if they do not to take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. You can prolong your life by healthy bowel action. Closed bowels invite disease. Women about to pass the menstrual period cannot

TUESDAY, DECEMBER 20.

Daily Thought.

There are two freedoms—the false, where a man is free to do what he likes; the true, where a man is free to do what he ought.—Charles Kingsley.

And, believe us, it requires some shock to jar New York.

The United States senators decline to surrender their dearest privilege, of free speech—and the complementary privilege of free transmission of those speeches to their constituents.

Since a jury in McCracken released two prisoners, who killed a man in a house of ill-fame, on the ground that they were defending their home, we have no criticism to make of the John Abner murder verdict.

SENATOR JIM.

Senator Jim Frazier has an instinctive repugnance for an opinion on anything, and that instinct has stood him in good stead twice within a year. He kept out of the last Tennessee embargo because he couldn't make up his mind which side had the biggest following, and he declined to join in the whitewashing of Lorimer. We have not always been numbered among Jim Frazier's keenest admirers for the very reason that we never could pin him down to an expression of opinion; but we must admit that, giving him credit in both instances for the clean side of the situation, we are bound to observe, in view of the senatorial situation in Tennessee, he has also played mighty good politics. People will begin to call him "honest Jim" first thing he knows. We should hate to get any of the Lorimer whitewash on our hands; we are afraid it wouldn't hold its color.

AS TO THAT CHRISTMAS PRESENT.

In justice to the school trustees, who through good business management have paid off a floating debt of $19,000, and in justice to the members of the general council, who are entrusted with the appropriation of the city's finances, it is only fair that the News-Democrat's statement this morning that the city voluntarily assumed a floating debt of $6,000 for the schools at the beginning of the year and will pay them $3,000 more as a "Christmas present," should be denied as being as false as it is absurd. Far from assuming any floating debt, under an opinion of the city solicitor the city is withholding from the schools money that from every viewpoint of equity and justice belongs to them.

With regard to the "Christmas gift": at the beginning of the fiscal year of 1910 the finance committee of the school board represented to the general council that there still remained a floating debt of $6,000, which the taxpayers must pay interest on this until it was wiped out and that it would be necessary for the schools to take the money to meet the debt in June from the next school year's revenue, thus curtailing plans for the betterment of the schools. The committee suggested that, since it was the taxpayer's business, anyway, if the general council would add $6,000 to the school revenues, that debt could be taken care of and the plans for the schools' improvements could proceed without hindrance.

The general council in committee of the whole rejected the idea as impossible, but did estimate in the budget $3,000 additional for the schools and promised the school trustees, that if there was a balance of as much as $3,000 at the end of this year, it would be paid over to the board, and that the trustees could go ahead with their school plans, including this additional $3,000 in their estimate of expenses for the ensuing year.

All conditions have been fulfilled: the estimate was made, including the $3,000, the balance is on hand in the city treasury and it remains only for the finance committee of the general council to appropriate the $3,000 for the schools. Whether the schools will get the money now is problematical, of course. Nothing has been done so far to make good the promise.

Reference was made in the beginning to money withheld from the schools. Suit is pending for the settlement of that controversy now. The school board asked for some

PEACE AND GOOD HEALTH.

"Peace on earth, good health to men!" is the new Christmas greeting. Or, as the revised version has it, "Peace on earth to men of good will," peace on earth to men of good health, the only real and permanent peace known.

Not all the strains of the multitude of the heavenly host singing together, and of the anthems that rise from Christmas Day congregations, beautiful and inspiring as they are, can bring peace to the hacking cough, or cheer to the gaunt bosom of the consumptive. The heartiest Christmas spirit, the most cordial of Christmas greetings, are poor substitutes for sunshine, fresh air and good food. A turkey for the poor once a year, while far better than cod liver oil, is not enough. What they need is a beefsteak every day.

In this wide and prosperous land of ours, at this joyous season, there are two hundred thousand homes in which the return of Christmas chiefly points mutely to the vacant chair by the hearth, emptied since last year's carols were sung; who see in the first snowflakes but a winding sheet for the new and yet ungraced mounds in God's acre.

In those homes are a third of a million innocent children, and happy, glad-faced boys and girls, bearing already in their tender bodies the seeds of the dread disease, half of them destined to an early death, or a blighted and stunted life.

Five dollars apiece a year from each of us, properly applied, would stop this harvest of death, and break this pathetic procession of child victims of the altar of the Moloch of Ignorance. Intelligence and money would have saved the lives of 100,000 of the past year's victims. A little more money and a little more intelligence would prevent the further spread of the disease, and heal 90 per cent of these smitten children.

Do you want to aid in promoting the spread of such intelligence in every city and every county of the Union, in awakening the hygienic conscience of the Nation to stamp out this plague? Then put down first and largest upon your list of expenditures for Christmas—RED CROSS SEALS!

DR. WOODS HUTCHINSON.

$50,000; the general council estimated the probable revenue on a 35 cent levy at approximately $37,000. Back taxes and penalties based on that rate are collected every year and not included in the apportionment. The money is collected from the taxpayers at a rate, including 35—185 of the total for the schools. The city solicitor says that, notwithstanding more is collected for school purposes than the budget estimate apportionments, the surplus goes to the city to be divided among other departments. That amounts practically to collecting money from the taxpayers for school purposes and using it for something else. There are several thousand dollars involved in this controversy.

We do not believe City Treasurer Walters is responsible for the statement that the floating debt of the schools was assumed by the city, or that a total of $9,000 in gifts has been received by the schools from the city this year; but in justice both to the watchdogs of the treasury, and to the careful administrators of the school funds, we think the story deserves explicit denial.

THE PRESIDENT AND THE ARMY

The Chicago Tribune's special story that President Taft never saw the secretary of war's special report on the condition of our Pacific coast defenses before it was submitted to congress, may be true; but the Tribune correspondent's statement that President Taft disagrees with the secretary as to our preparedness to resist an invasion is entirely erroneous, as proven by the president's own comment on the secretary's report:

"The people of this country will never consent to the maintenance of a standing army which military experts will pronounce sufficiently large to cope in battle with the standing armies of the greater powers, should they get by our navy, avoid our harbor defenses and descend upon our coast."

That is not a disagreement with expert opinion, it is merely a comment upon a state of facts. Technically, in other words, the force is not sufficient to resist an invasion; but we have a navy to resist the invasion before it reaches the coast, and a skeleton army to recruit upon. Experts do not speculate upon probabilities; they take conditions as they find them, and approve nothing short of perfection. They find the force inadequate to resist an invasion. The president doesn't say it is adequate; he merely says the country would not stand for a military organization such as experts would declare adequate, and concludes "if that leaves us helpless so be it."

Hard to get an argument out of that.

THE RIVERS AGAIN.

That Memphian, who thinks it unfair that $9,000,000 should be appropriated for strengthening levees on the lower Mississippi, the only work necessary, while $65,000,000 is expended on the Ohio, takes the narrow view that government funds are spoils for distribution among the states, and he wants his'n.

The Ohio river traverses a much more fertile and populous section, with immensely greater tonnage than the lower Mississippi. Its two tributaries, the Cumberland and Tennessee, tap cotton, mineral and coal countries, parts of which depend entirely on the river for transportation. It is essential to the opening of these streams that the Ohio also be kept open the year around. The lower Mississippi is perennially navigable; the Ohio, Tennessee and Cumberland should be provided with locks and dams to make them navigable the year around.

When this is done and these streams, of just as much importance as the Mississippi, are placed on an equality with it; then will be time enough for the nation and the states bordering the Mississippi to be considering a 14 foot channel from the lakes to the gulf. It would be ridiculous for this nation to neglect its streams while it digs a canal to parallel a stream already navigable the year around. The more that takes to the gulf proposition is considered the more securely it takes rank as a secondary matter in the public concern.

STATE PRESS.

Primary a Brace Game.

It is further understood that Addams, Hendrick and Johnson, in the event a primary election is called will issue a signed statement withdrawing from the race leaving a clear track to Mr. McCreary and Henry Lawrence and John Keys to land him in November 1911, which would be about as probable as it would be for all the great peaks of the Allegheny mountains to all sprout wings at the same time and rise up and like a flock of wild geese light out in the great state of Texas on November 4, 1911 as for McCreary under such circumstances to be elected on that day. The common people have shown that they will not forever have their rights trampled upon by being forced into a brace game and three card hold-up where the cards are all stacked on them in advance with every ace, king and queen marked or held out to be used when needed against the unsuspecting victim, who is standing pat on the honesty and integrity of those having the primary election in charge, as a full hand. There is no chance for an honest primary in a state election under the present law—Smithland Banner.

A "Music Hall" Convention.

If a convention is called, the "Music Hall" convention, whose history is known from one end of the country to the other, will only be considered as a baby compared to the one that is now contemplated by the whiskey power and other powers of this commonwealth.—Mayfield Messenger.

EDITOR KILLED

ARTHUR MURRAY, OF PINE BLUFF PRESS-EAGLE.

Shot Twice in the Head; Ed and Gus Lelaurn Are His Assaultants.

Pine Bluff, Ark., Dec. 20.—Arthur Murray, editor and owner of the Press-Eagle and one of the oldest and wealthiest residents of this city, was assaulted and shot at the entrance of the Brookhill hotel by Ed and Gus Lelaurn, sons of A. A. Lelaurn, a local iron manufacturer, and will probably die.

Murray was taken to the Florence Sanitarium, where the physicians say his condition is critical. The trouble grew out of an old difference between A. A. Lelaurn, father of the assaultants, and Murray of years' standing, although it was thought that the matter was ended.

Murray was leaving the Brookhill saloon with Thomas S. James, an intimate friend and a local capitalist of prominence, when the Lelaurn boys, who had just left the saloon ahead of them, attacked Murray, assaulting him, and before Murray had time to defend himself two shots were fired. Both bullets entered his head and he dropped to the floor.

The two Lelaurns, who are but 21 and 24 years old, fled south on Alabama street and disappeared in the darkness. They have not been arrested.

WILSON TO TAKE STUMP.

Rumored He Will Carry Martine's Senatorial Banner.

Trenton, N. J., Dec. 20.—Governor Woodrow Wilson probably will go on the stump in the various counties in New Jersey "for the purpose of arousing public sentiment in favor of the election of James E. Martine to the United States senate." While the governor-elect refused to discuss the subject, it was learned from an authoritative source that such a step had been practically decided upon to day at a conference held here.

Dr. Wilson was the guest today of Gov. Fort and this afternoon he conferred with State Senator Harry V. Osborne and Assemblyman Joseph Tumulty. This conference, it is stated on good authority, related to the United States senatorship, which is to be filled by the incoming legislature.

When the conference was over neither Dr. Wilson, Senator Osborne nor Assemblyman Tumulty would talk for publication, but it is known one of the things discussed was the proposition that Dr. Wilson go on the stump in the interest of Mr. Martine, who was entered for the office at the Democratic primaries held in September.

TOBACCO MARKETS.

Hopkinsville, Ky., Dec. 20.—The "same old story in the same old way" describes the tobacco market during the past week. Dry weather continues to hold back the much desired delivery of tobacco, but does not hamper the buyers from visiting the barns and buying it at prices that are from 50 cents to $1.00 over those prevailing at this time last year. During the week there was some more activity than heretofore, two sales being held on the three loose floors, these being on Tuesday and Thursday. Offerings for the week aggregated $5,000 pounds and prices ranged from $4.50 to $10.00 per hundred. The tobacco offered was nearly entirely low grades, that was brought in by the farmers to get some Christmas money. It was all very dry and in poor condition. A considerable portion of the offerings had been sprinkled to get it pliable enough to handle. Considering these things, the prices paid were high.

FAMOUS EXPERT TELLS

How Fat May Be Removed Rapidly By a Simple Remedy Without Causing Wrinkles, Disturbing the Diet or Necessity for Exercise.

"Fat is nothing but unused energy," says a prominent physician, and the man or woman who is burdened with it can easily get rid of it if they wish. All they need is 1-2 ounce of Marmola, 1-2 ounce of Fluid Extract Cascaro Aromatic and 3 1-2 ounces of Peppermint Water; all of which they can get at any good drug store for a few cents. Then let them take one teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime until they are down to the weight they want to be.

This simple home receipt is far and away better than any or all the patent or secret medicines, for it reduces the fat safely and harmlessly. The ingredients are in fact beneficial to the system, having both tonic and purifying qualities, and so help rather than distress the stomach. The remedy does not cause wrinkles, for it reduces one gradually and naturally, requiring no change in diet—one can get results and still take things easy—eating meat just what they wish and how he or she pleases. Be sure and get the Marmola in a sealed package, so that you get Marmola and not a substitute.

The Colored Ministers Met at Seventh Street Church.

The colored ministers of the city met at Seventh Street church Monday morning in the interest of West Kentucky Industrial college.

The following resolutions were passed and a committee appointed: "Whereas, West Kentucky Industrial college stands for the mental, moral and commercial advantages of west Kentucky, and

Whereas, the eastern end of the population of the state has many educational advantages of this end, which is evidenced by many of our public schools having to be supplied with teachers from the eastern end, showing clearly a deficit in our educational work, be it resolved by this ministerial meeting that we not only encourage West Kentucky Industrial college as we have done in the past, but give it our most hearty support."

Whereas, Prof. D. H. Anderson is sacrificing for this school much and working untiringly and has borne up so strongly under uninvoked hardships which have become clearly seen to us, be it resolved by this meeting that his work meet our heartiest approval and that a committee be selected by this body to make complete arrangements for a general mass meeting to aid in this great work."

Henry Clews Makes Analysis of the Government Cotton Census--Situation.

New York, Dec. 20. (Special.)—Crop figures a very light per diem ginning will have to be shown for the period to be covered. Should this not prove to be the case, general opinion will naturally hold that the government this year, as demonstrated so many times in the past, has again underestimated the yield. Even the recent census bureau figures are not concurred in by many other reliable authorities as, for instance, the Texas board of agriculture, whose recent report places the ginning of that state to December 1st, at 114,000 bales more than the bureau estimate for the same period. Notwithstanding the many claims which are being made that very little cotton remains to be ginned, unofficial reports from various sections of the belt are to the effect that the ginning to date is running in excess of corresponding dates in recent years, and this, together with the continued heavy movement of the crop, makes it rather difficult for the bulls to dissipate the growing belief in a supply sufficient to meet all normal demands. If the contention of the exponents of high prices that this season's supply is inadequate is to be accepted, evidence must soon be forthcoming to prove that the government has not again underestimated the total yield, without which it will be difficult to induce further speculative participation by a public who, from their lack of enthusiasm, apparently believe that 15c. cotton discounts much that is really bullish in existing conditions.

The foreign situation is still the backbone of the bull position. Manchester and Lancashire are particularly optimistic regarding the goods market, and are predicting a further trade improvement after the first of the year. This is in direct contrast to conditions at Fall River and Providence, where business shows further signs of slowing up. Yarn manufacturers at these centers claim that the recent advance has killed what little prospects they had of new business as buyers refuse absolutely to meet any advance above going quotations for their products.

Business in the export division of the cotton goods market has been rather quiet during the week. The China movement has stopped entirely, while sales to India and Manila are of only moderate proportions. Stocks of cotton continue to pile up in the domestic market; at six leading points they are twenty-eight per cent. larger than a year ago, while the into-sight movement for the week is almost double that of last year's.

From all indications the option market is heavily long speculatively and every bullish factor is being emphasized not only to prevent liquidation, but to induce further public buying. Sixteen-cent cotton is freely predicted by the leaders by New Year's, and to further help the movement, reports have been circulated both here and in Liverpool that the world's spindles this year will require over 12,500,000 bales of American cotton to satisfy their needs. In the trade it is generally known and freely admitted, in view of the present situation and the future business outlook, that the world's requirements of American cotton will not approximate anything near those figures. In fact to develop such a demand would require a revival in general trade conditions equal to that which existed in some of our recent boom years. In the meanwhile it cannot be denied that the coterie of bull leaders aided by their enthusiastic following, have the market well in hand, but it remains to be demonstrated to what extent they will be successful in liquidating their contracts for future delivery which it is known are exceedingly large.—Henry Clews &

STATEMENT BY SENATOR FRAZIER

SIGNED NO REPORT EXONERATING LORIMER.

Was Not in Washington at Final Meeting of Sub-Committee, but Sent Statement.

SEVEN LORIMER VOTES TAINTED

Chattanooga, Tenn., Dec. 20.—Senator James B. Frazier denied that he signed the report of the sub-committee of the committee on privileges and elections of the senate which found the election of Lorimer of Illinois, free from scandal. He says he filed a statement in which he said he believed seven of the votes cast for Lorimer in the legislature were tainted.

It has been generally reported that all members of the sub-committee signed the report which gave Lorimer a clear record. Frazier said he was not present at the final meeting of the sub-committee, but had left Washington.

"Before leaving Washington I prepared a statement of my views and gave it to my secretary with instructions to hand it to the chairman of the sub-committee. I have no doubt he did this. In the statement I disagreed with the report of the other members wherein it exonerates the election of Lorimer from charges of corruption. I said that in my judgment the evidence established the fact that four members of the legislature who voted for Lorimer were bribed to do so. They have confessed that they were bribed by three other members, who had voted for Lorimer, and that my conclusions as set forth in the statement were that there were seven votes cast for Lorimer, which were corrupted or tainted."

The elimination of these seven votes would reduce Lorimer's vote below the number necessary for election, he having received only six more than his opponent.

If you mail a check for your city taxes it should reach the Treasurer two or three days before the last of the month, so he may be able to get it in his deposit on December 31. Otherwise it will have to include the penalty.

Hull Umbrella

Detachable and interchangeable handle

If you buy a Hull from us and happen to be in Kansas City or Seattle when you need a new cover, simply go to a Hull dealer, select the base (rod, ribs and cover) and snap on the handle.

When you buy an old style umbrella, the greater part of the price pays for the handle. Yet when the cover gives out ten to one you discard handle and all. Now that is not necessary.

Free of charge we will have the handle fitted with the Hull detachable device; and supply you with a Hull cover and frame at practically what you would pay for a new cover alone.

Hull Umbrellas $2.50 and Upward

You will always find us supplied with the newest and most desirable Hull Handles and Hull Bases (frame and covers) in materials of the highest grade.

CLEAN MOUTH CRUSADE.

New York Physician Will Enlist Aid of Dentists.

Albany, N. Y., Dec. 20.—By the appointment of Dr. H. L. Wheeler, of New York city, and Dr. W. A. White, of Philadelphia, as dental consultant and special lecturers on oral hygiene of the New York state department of health, Commissioner Eugene H. Porter has earned the distinction of being the first state commissioner of health in the United States to take an active part in the crusade for clean mouths and to enlist the assistance of members of the dental profession on behalf of the health of the community.

The duties assigned to Dr. Wheeler and Dr. White comprise the giving of public lectures on the subject of oral hygiene and the prevention of tooth decay and consulting with local health boards and school authorities with regard to starting inspection of teeth of school children and the opening of free dental clinics.

WHEAT ADVANCES IN CHICAGO PIT

BULLISH EUROPEAN SITUATION OF NO EFFECT.

Shorts Forced to Cover Despite Big Supplies—Evidence of Holding Movement.

OUTLOOK FOR THE NEXT YEAR.

Chicago, Dec. 20.—Despite an array of bearish influences, including a government report which was given a construction favorable to believers in lower prices, wheat closed the current week with a slight advance in prices all along the line. December gained 1c, May was $\frac{1}{4}$ c higher than at the close of the previous week, and July gained $\frac{1}{2}$ c.

Indications were that the concentrated holding was forcing the issue and the steady-hardening of values frightened shorts worse than would a sharp bulge. European markets were all lower during the week, the main influences being good harvest reports from Argentina and estimates from a reliable source showing that the wheat crop of Russia was 125,000,000 bushels larger than a year ago.

In this country the legitimate news was decidedly bearish. Cash wheat demand from millers was practically at a standstill, market-has played havoc with the tresses of the fair sex, and druggists everywhere comment on the fact that they are selling large quantities of sage for making the old-fashioned "sage tea," such as was used by our grandmothers for promoting the growth of their hair and restoring its natural color. The demand for this well-known herb for this purpose has been so great that one manufacturer has taken advantage of the fact, and has placed on the market an ideal "sage tea," containing sulphur, a valuable remedy for dandruff and scalp rashes and irritations. This preparation, which is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, is sold by all leading druggists for 50 cents and $1 a bottle, or will be sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

ings at country stations were larger and there was absolutely nothing doing in the way of export business. Even the demand for Canadian wheat was extremely dull and advices from across the border showed that the crop of that country had been greatly underestimated. In our own northwest it was reported that country bankers were refusing to lend money to farmers who wished to hold back their wheat for better prices.

Conservative wheat traders are somewhat puzzled at the small impression that has been made on the domestic grain trade by the publication of the Russian wheat figures. Sensational as they are, they nevertheless have been amply borne out by the shipments of the last five months. There is apparently no more indication now of a falling off in shipments than there was when the after-harvest movement began. The figures as presented by the International Institute—918,000,000 bushels—are nearly 200,000,000 bushels larger than were credited to Russia at harvest and most of the time since. The gain would be equal to twice the quantity that the trade believes Argentina has to export in 1911. In view of the fact that Russia also carried over a large supply from last year, it is very easy to believe that the wheat consumer of Europe is in a very comfortable position this year, to say the least.

While the legitimate trade conditions are for a lowering of values for the present, there are vast possibilities in the way of crop scares next spring. The latter, however, are just now too remote for serious speculative consideration.

Lack of export outlet for wheat is having a constant daily effect against grain values. If there were great scarcity in some sections to offset great concentrated holdings in others, and had domestic supplies been drawn down by early season exports as was the case when Patten and the northwestern millers owned the bulk of the cash wheat in the country, the situation might present a different aspect. The country is maintaining a strictly domestic level of prices and there is no real cause except local demand why wheat should be higher at the seaboard than in the interior.

Increased Demand Predicted.

There are those who believe that the opening of the new year will see a vast and phenomenal increase in the demand for wheat and a rapid melting away of the supplies. It probably will be recalled that the same optimistic people were predicting a few short weeks since that local supplies would be wiped out before the close of lake navigation. There is every reason to expect a continuous steady consumption of wheat bread in the United States, but nothing at all to indicate that any section of the country has not an ample supply of wheat or flour, or both, to produce it leisurely without trouble.

On Monday the showing made in wheat was a little remarkable in view of the large number of important bearish influences at work. The fact that the buying was concentrated

WITH A SEVERE COUGH THE BOWELS NEED A LAXATIVE.

Make This Laxative Cough Syrup
Cheaply at Home.

Any one can make a full pint of finest acting laxative cough syrup for about 75 to 80 cents. About eight times cheaper than labeled cough syrup, because a pint will last a family a long time. First, obtain of any well-stocked druggist, $\frac{1}{2}$ ounce of essence Mentha-laxone; empty it into a pint bottle. Then make a syrup with a pint of granulated sugar and a half pint of boiling water. Stir, let cool and fill the bottle with the syrup. Shake well and take a teaspoonful every hour or two. Eight to ten doses daily will act as a mild laxative, check the cough instantly and cure it quicker than anything you can buy. This syrup builds up the strength of the system and makes the tissues of the lungs and throat healthy. Chronic cases yield most readily to its beneficial action. Give children less according to age.

ed and the selling comparatively weak and scattering was chiefly responsible for the rally. A good advance at Liverpool had considerable effect on the trade here. There were claims of floods in Southern France and Italy, and it was claimed that rains were falling in a part of the harvest section of Argentina. Later cables, however, showed that all the continental markets were lower and that Buenos Ayres was weak. The same cables reported harvesting progressing favorably, with threshing outturns favorable in the north. Lack of outlet for American wheat was plainly shown in the visible supply statement. The Canadian figures made the same kind of a showing.

Dullness, approaching stagnation prevailed in the wheat pit all day. The entire business done in the wheat pit by all of the commission houses, brokers and speculators would not have made a big day for any one of the private wire concerns. The bears were without a leader and scalping speculators in the pit were inclined to go to great lengths in combating the bullish attitude shown by the Armour-Lichsterm forces. Although dry weather prevailed over Oklahoma and most of Kansas during the week, the area of drought in the winter wheat section was decreasing. Northern Texas had good rains, South ern Nebraska had fine snows and there was light snow in Western Kansas.

Steady hardening of wheat values was seen Wednesday from the start. The creeping advance frightened the shorts, and towards the close of the session they were competing with the bulls for the moderate offerings. There was every indication that the concentrated holding was forcing the issue. The selling opposition was scattered and unimportant. The bulk of the day's news was of a bearish sort, but it was given scant attention. Receipts both northwest and southwest were larger than a year ago. Total primary arrivals were larger and shipments smaller than last year, and there was a poor cash demand both here and northwest.

On Thursday wheat opened weak and finished easy, but in the interim made a sufficient show of strength to frighten a great many shorts into covering. Buying by the influential longs imparted such strength as there was following an easy opening, this resulting in forcing many shorts to cover. With the exception of continued dry weather in parts of Kansas and Oklahoma and general firmness in the European markets, the news of the day was depressing.

Trade was rather limited in volume on Friday and the market was heavy in tone. With the exception of an unusually high estimate on the exportable surplus from Argentina, the news of the day was unimportant and colorless. There was considerable selling of wheat here for foreign account, although none of the transactions reached large proportions.

Corn started the week strong and a little higher. A modest advance, however, brought substantial offerings from the country houses and larger local speculators. The market gradually settled, sagging under the weight of the big movement from the interior to this and other western markets. Both Illinois and Iowa were consigning corn heavily. Although there was quite an active trade in oats at times during the week, price changes at the end were unimportant. Quite a quantity of oats were bought at Minneapolis during the week to be brought to Chicago and delivered on December contracts.

BEING MADE OF LOUISVILLE DIVISION.

Pat Glynn and A. F. Blaess Going Over the Road Between Here and Louisville.

Mr. Pat Glynn, formerly roadmaster of the Y. & M. V. railroad, at Greenville, Miss., arrived in this city this morning for an inspection of the Louisville division of the Illinois Central railroad. He was accompanied by Mr. A. F. Blaess, who has been promoted to the position of assistant engineer. Mr. Blaess will leave for Chicago in a few days to begin his new duties.

Fast passenger train No. 103, en route from Louisville to New Orleans, was delayed over four hours this morning by a freight train blocking the tunnel at Muldraugh. In passing through the tunnel the engine of freight train No. 155 broke a driving rod and traffic was delayed for four hours before the track could be cleared. Nobody was injured.

J. F. Walker, master mechanic, and T. A. Downs, assistant trainmaster, returned this morning from Louisville after attending a staff meeting yesterday.

If you mail a check for your city taxes it should reach the Treasurer two or three days before the last of the month, so he may be able to get it in his deposit on December 31. Otherwise it will have to include the penalty.

HITS SELF-SHAVERS.

Chicago Barbers Charge 50 cents for Haircut.

Chicago, Dec. 20.—At a meeting of the Chicago Barbers' association last night members voted on a proposition to charge every man who shaves himself at least 50 cents for a hair cut.

Some members of the organization are urging that the self-shavers be charged even a higher price. The price to the man who gets shaved in a barbershop will remain the same as heretofore.

Barbers say it is an easy matter to tell a man who shaves himself.

"You see," said a barber yesterday, "when a man who shaves himself never has his neck shaved. So, when we get a fellow who has the back of his neck covered with hair, all we have to do is to say to him, a hair cut is a dollar to you, mister, and then if he don't produce, out he goes."

This Will Stop Your Cough in a Hurry

Save 25 by Making This Cough Syrup at Home.

This recipe makes a pint of better cough syrup than you could buy ready made for $2.50. A few doses usually conquer the most obstinate cough—stops even whooping cough quickly. Simple as it is, no better remedy can be had at any price.

Mix one pint of granulated sugar with 1/2 pint of warm water, and stir for 2 minutes. Put 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex (fifty cents worth) in a pint bottle; then add the Sugar Syrup. It has a pleasant taste and lasts a family a long time. Take a teaspoonful every one, two or three hours.

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. Has a good tonic effect, braces up the appetite and is slightly laxative, too, which is helpful. A handy remedy for hoarseness, bronchitis, asthma and all throat and lung troubles.

The effect of pine on the membranes is well known. Pinex is the most valuable concentrated compound of Norwegian white pine extract, and is rich in gualic acid and all the natural healing pine elements. Other preparations will not work in this formula.

This Pinex and Sugar Syrup recipe has attained great popularity throughout the United States and Canada. It has often been imitated, though never successfully.

A guaranty of absolute satisfaction, or money promptly refunded, goes with this recipe. Your druggist has Pinex or will get it for you. If not, send to The Pinex Co., St. Wayne, Ind.

A Christmas Fairy.

In the center of a room place a large round table covered with a green cloth scattered all over with small boughs of evergreen frosted with tinsel. Suspended from the chandelier and hanging just far enough apart to admit a little light from above have garlands sparkling with frost, with the ends fastened to the sides of the table, three-quarters of the way around it. The effect will be that of a tent. The other quarter should be left open, so that one may look inside and see an immense cornucopia covered with silver paper, with its open end toward the front. As though emerging from it the Christmas fairy (a wax doll), sparkling in robes of white and silver, should be poised. A frosted wreath should crown her golden curls, and in her hand she should hold a long silver wand. The cornucopia should seem to be emptying itself into the glittering train of the good fairy.

"Pardon me madam, but the way that man across the aisle is staring at you must be very offensive. Do you wish me to interfere?"

"Oh, no; thank you. That's my husband."

"Yes He's very nearsighted, and thinks I am somebody else."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Costly Kisses at Christmas.

At a Christmas dinner given every year to the old folks of Hanley, the capital of the potteries district in England, a quaint ceremony is regularly observed.

At the conclusion of the meal one of the oldest of the women guests advances to the platform and kisses the mayor on both cheeks. His worship gallantly returns the salute, and the exchange of kisses continues until all the more venerable dames present have been thus honored.

In large business establishments, where the assistants live in, a great deal of kissing goes on at Christmas time. Some of the more daring spirals among the male "hands" have been known to make bets with one another as to the number of different girls they would kiss between Christmas eve and New Year's eve.

In a certain London drapery house two or three seasons ago one of these "horrid males" made a record by saluting seventeen different damsels. But he found the game was not worth the candle, for, in addition to a scratched face and a pretty severe pummeling at the hands of a victim's sweetheart, the rash youth found his services dispensed with.

At another great emporium one Christmas indiscriminate kissing created so much trouble that more than a dozen young men were dismissed. Ever since in this particular establishment even the introduction of a sprig of mistletoe during the festive season has been enough to insure instant dismissal.

A girl who appeared with a sprig of it in her blouse was ordered to put on her things and leave at once. A playful young man who merely pretended to kiss a young lady assistant was hurried off the premises with his hat and overcoat in his hand.

The Lancashire factory maid has a little kissing custom all her own that is sacred to Christmas. At this special period she will kiss an over-looker or any other male "hand" in the expectation that she will be rewarded with a shilling for her temerity.

Woe betide the ungallant worker who fails to part with the coin. He will find his coat sleeves sewed up or nailed to the wall. If the girl herself does not do this her fellow workers will.

Some of the more venturesome have been known to "get their employer round the neck" and kiss him, but the risks are great. If he takes the liberty kindly he will part with a sovereign; if otherwise he will part with the kisser. In one instance the master was so furious at being kissed that he closed his works until New Year's day, thus mauling the hands in a week's wages.

A ludicrous story is told of a young Japanese engineering apprentice in connection with the Christmas custom of kissing. He was serving his time in the north of England and was astonished when a waitress at the dining rooms which he regularly frequented kissed him under the mistletoe.

On it being explained to him that a present was expected in return, he suggested a pair of gloves. The damsel, however, had heard that he was immensely wealthy and gently hinted that something for her neck would be more acceptable. When the present arrived next day she conjured up visions of a pearl necklace as she trembling undid the parcel. Then was disclosed to her disappointed gaze a Jap's idea of "something for her neck." It took the shape of a bar of soap.

It is interesting to recall a strange Christmas kissing custom that in times gone by was regularly observed at a certain London hostelry. This was a house known as the Pied Bull in Clerkenwell, the landlord of which was under an obligation to bestow on every woman who came in before noon and kissed him a given measure of ale.

If records can be relied on "mine host" had no lack of lady customers on the festive morn.—Tit-Bits.

What Christmas Means to Me, (By an Old Bachelor.)

Christmas to me means opportunity.

For what? Opportunity for kindness.

It is perhaps fifteen years since I received a Christmas gift. I'm an old bachelor and nobody remembers me. Yet that doesn't make me glum and grouchy at Christmas—no, sir.

I'm not particularly fond of children. Maybe if I were I would have married and raised a few of my own. Still, I don't dislike the little ones, and every year I run across a lot of boys and girls who have no Santa Claus of their own—little orphan fellows and God's poor. Well, when Christmas comes along I remember these children. I'm their Santa Claus in a small way.

Last Christmas I spent $9 and made nearly forty children happy. I've got a ten dollar bill laid up to spend in the same way this Christmas, and I'll bet any body will get ten that the old bachelor will get as much joy out of spending that "X" as all the little ones combined.

"Do something, do something," said Ike.

"I've done everything I can," said the chauffeur.

"Yes, sir," said the chauffeur.

"Are you absolutely sure that you cannot stop it?"

Ike lay back and closed his eyes. "Then run it into something cheap," he said.—National Monthly.

SNOW HOUSES OF THE ESKIMOS

HOW THEY ARE BUILT—PECULIAR SPIRAL ARCH.

The Eskimo vault is a true dome; it exerts no outward thrust and requires no temporary scaffolding. It is also unique in that its material is not brick or stone but snow.

The construction is used for the beehive shaped winter houses of these so-called savages and is spiral in plan. A row of blocks is first laid on the ground in a circle—or more exactly a polygon. Each of these has a slightly slant top and each thus raises its surface a little beyond the last, until when the circle is complete the gap in height between the last and first blocks gives the thickness for the following courses. In these the upper and lower surfaces of each block are parallel, as in a brick, but the gradual upward trend given by the first course is of necessity maintained.

In each successive round the snow bricks are leaned inward more by having their lower surfaces sliced off to a bevel. If set squarely end to end they would before long lean inward so far that they would tumble. For this reason the end of the block last laid is cut at an angle. The next following block has the joining end slanted at the reverse angle. Thus it fits in behind the preceding and is prevented by it from slipping inward.

As the house grows the circle becomes smaller, until at last only an irregular polygonal opening is left. This is filled with a wedge shaped block cut to shape. It is, however, not a keystone, as the remainder of the structure supports itself.

The blocks of firm snow are usually dressed outside and handed for placing to the man on the inside.

The last block he holds up with one hand, slices to shape with his ivory knife in the other and drops into position. He is then entirely enclosed in the vault. Only after the house itself is entirely completed does he cut the low door, which to keep out the cold as much as possible and is only big enough to crawl through.

A long, low funnel is then built in front of the door to break the force of the Arctic's icy blasts. Even the window is present. A small aperture is cut out over the door and filled with a pane of clear, thin ice. All that is omitted is the flue or chimney. Whatever heat is produced by the seal oil lamps is wanted inside, warmth being a more serious necessity in the climate than ventilation or freedom from smoke.—Scientific American.

AERONAUT'S BODY FOUND.

One of Three Men Who ascended in Balloon in Germany.

Bremen, Dec. 19.—A fishing cutter has found in the North Sea the body of Lieut. Lange, pilot of the balloon Saar. The Saar and eight other balloons started in a race from Essen-on-Ruhr, Rhenish Prussia, on November 13. All the other balloons made safe landings, but the Saar was never heard from again. Lieutenant Lange, Lieutenant Rommeler and a civilian, Her Zimmerman, were on board the Saar.

A Happy Suggestion.

There never was a man who didn't enjoy having a match scratcher handy when he wanted to light his pipe. Take a heavy card 7 by 9 inches, either white or cream, and gild the edge by putting on gold paint in little irregular splashes; also gild a clay pipe to hold the matches, tie diagonally across the center of card by punching two holes close to the bowl, one each side of the stem, run ribbon through and tie in bow. Cut large heart from sandpaper, gild and paste to the lower corner. In the upper corner letter with gold paint. "A Striking Proof of My Affection." Make two holes at center of top, run ribbon through and tie in a bow on the right side.

Apparently the automobile had passed directly over him, yet he picked himself up unscathed. To what do you attribute your marvelous escape? They asked as he stood dusting himself off in the middle of the pavement. To the fact, he said, that my name's MacAdam.—New York Times.

Now About Clean Food

Another Splendid Opportunity to Bring Out Facts

When the "Weekly" which sued us for libel (because we publicly denounced them for an editorial attack on our claims) was searching for some "weak spot," they thought best to send a N. Y. Atty. to Battle Creek, summoned 25 of our workmen and took their sworn statements before a Commissioner.

Did we object? No. On the contrary, we helped all we could, for the opportunity was too good to be lost.

Geo. Haines testified he inspected the wheat and barley, also floors and every part of the factories to know things were kept clean. That every 30 minutes a sample of the products was taken and inspected to keep the food up to standard and keep out any impurities, also that it is the duty of every man in the factories to see that anything not right is immediately reported. Has been with the Co. 10 years.

Edward Young testified had been with Co. 15 years. Inspector, he and his men examined every sack and ear of wheat and barley to see they were up to standard and rejected many cars.

H. E. Burt, Supt., testified has been with Co. over 13 years. Bought only the best grain obtainable. That the Co. kept a corps of men who do nothing but keep things clean, bright and polished.

Testified that no ingredient went into Grape-Nuts and Postum except those printed in the advertising. No possibility of any foreign things getting into the foods as most of the machinery is kept closed. Asked if the factory is open to the public, said "yes" and "it took from two to three guides constantly to show visitors through the works." Said none of the processes were carried on behind closed doors.

At this point attys. for the "Weekly" tried to show the water used was from some outside source. Testified the water came from the Co.'s own artesian wells and was pure.

He testified the workmen were first class, high-grade and inspected by the Co.'s own physician to be sure they were all in proper physical condition; also testified that state reports showed that Co. pays better wages than the average and he thought higher than any in the state.

F. B. Martin, Asst. Supt., testified Grape-Nuts made of Wheat, Barley, Yeast and Water. Anything else? "No, sir." Postum made of Wheat, Wheat Bran and New Orleans Molasses. Statements made on his experience of about 10 years with Co.

Testified bakers are required to wear fresh white suits changed every other day. Said had never known of any of the products being sent out that were below the high standard of inspection. Asked if any one connected with the Postum Co. had instructed him how to testify. Said "No, sir."

Horace Brown testified has been with Co. 9 years. Worked in Grape-Nuts bake shop. Testified the whole of the flour is composed of Wheat and Barley. Attys. tried to confuse him, but he insisted that any casual visitor could see that nothing else went into the flour. Said machinery and floors always kept clean.

So these men were examined by the "Weekly" lawyers hoping to find at least one who would say that some under-grade grain was put in or some unclean condition was found somewhere.

But it was no use.

Each and every man testified to the purity and cleanliness.

As a sample, take the testimony of Luther W. Mayo.

Testified been with Company about 10 years. Now working in the bakery department making Grape-Nuts. Testified that the ovens and floors are kept clean and the raw products as they go in are kept clean. Also that the wearing apparel of the employees has to be changed three times a week.

Q. Do you use Postum or Grape-Nuts yourself at all?

A. Yes, I use them at home.

Q. If from your knowledge of the factory which you have gained in your ten years at the factory you believed that they were dirty or impure in any way, would you use them?

A. I do not think I would. No.

Asked if any one on behalf of the Company had asked him to testify in any particular manner. Stated "No."

All these sworn depositions were carefully excluded from the testimony at the trial, for they wouldn't sound well for the "Weekly."

Think of the fact that every man swore to the purity and cleanliness so that the Atty. for the "Weekly" was forced to say in open court that the food was pure and good.

What a disappointment for the "Weekly!"

But the testimony showed:

All of the grain used in Grape-Nuts, Postum and Post Toasties is the highest standard possible to obtain.

All parts of the factory are kept scrupulously clean.

None of the workmen had been told how to testify.

Most of them have been from 10 to 15 years with the Co. and use the products on their tables at home.

Why do their families use the products, Grape-Nuts, Postum and Post Toasties, that they, themselves, make?

You Can Work Near a Window in winter when you have a Perfection Oil Heater. It is a portable radiator which can be moved to any part of a room, or to any room in a house. When you have a

PERFECTION SMOKELESS OIL HEATER

Absolutely smokeless and odorless you do not have to work close to the stove, which is usually far from the window. You can work where you wish, and be warm. You can work on dull winter days in the full light near the window, without being chilled to the bone.

The Perfection Oil Heater quickly gives heat, and with one filling of the font burns steadily for nine hours, without smoke or smell. An indicator always shows the amount of oil in the font. The filler-cap, put in like a cork in a bottle, is attached by a chain. This heater has a cool handle and a damper top.

The Perfection Oil Heater has an automatic-locking flame spreader, which prevents the wick from being turned high enough to smoke, and is easy to remove and drop back, so the wick can be quickly cleaned. The burner body or gallery cannot become wedged and can be unscrewed in an instant for reworking. The Perfection Oil Heater is finished in japan or nickel, is strong, durable, well-made, built for service, and yet light and ornamental.

ISLAND SINKS

MANY PEOPLE KILLED BY AN EARTHQUAKE.

Signals Given to San Salvador By Natives of Ilopango—Shock Felt.

New Orleans, Dec. 19.—A dispatch says San Salvador was repeatedly shaken by a series of earthquakes Thursday night. The dispatch says: "People on the little island of Ilopango were observed giving signals of distress late Thursday afternoon, but it was out of the question at that hour to send them relief because of the excitable condition of the people of the San Salvador coast. The earth shocks continued until past midnight Thursday, and Friday morning the island had entirely disappeared."

Shock Was Recorded.

Washington, Dec. 19.—Astronomers at Georgetown University say the report of the Costa Rican earthquake is probably true, as the seismograph here recorded tremors between 10:17 and 11:50 a. m. on Friday, when the distance from Washington was estimated at 7,500 miles.

"Why don't you sell that old mule of yours?" "Well, suh," replied Uncle Rabberry, "I jes' doesn't dare. I hasn't de face to sell him to one o' de neighbors, an' he wouldn't last for a drive long enuff to sell 'im to a stranger."—Washington Star.

A Simple Safeguard for Mothers.

Mrs. D. Gillespie, 326 Ingles ave., Youngstown, Ohio, gained wisdom by experience. "My little girl had a severe cold and coughed almost continuously. My sister recommended Foley's Honey and Tar. The first dose I gave her relieved the inflammation in her throat and after using one bottle her throat and lungs were entirely free from inflammation. Since then I always keep a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar in the house. Accept no substitutes. Gilbert's drug store."

HOLME'S
CHRISTMAS
BY
STACY E. BAKER

(Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.)

It was Christmas eve. Holme, a stranger in his own land, strolled lonesomely through the streets of his own city nor knew one of the shoving, impatient shoppers who elbowed him from the points of vantage in front of the gift laden windows.

It was seven years since he had been home. His mind moved over his many adventures in foreign lands as he almost affectionately gave shove for shove and forced his way up crowded Broadway. These people were his people—kin of him, fellow citizens. The spirit of the night permeated his whole being.

He thought about Jessie and wondered what had become of him. Probably he had married pretty Beth Allen, and as this thought occurred to Holme a curious little tremor thrilled up from his heart, saying as plainly as a heart can say, "We remember Beth, you and I, my master, and that is the reason why we are come back—to find out."

Once Holme had asked Beth Allen to marry him, and— "Dick!" Pale as a statue, the man turned. There at the curb, both hands held out to him, was Beth. "You!" he gasped as he strode toward her.

"Even so," laughed the girl. "Me! And this is the best Christmas present of all!" Two hands closed convulsively tight over his, and her low voice whispered: "Don't be surprised at anything. I will explain later. And so," she said aloud, "you thought you would surprise me, you naughty boy, and come tonight. I didn't expect you until tomorrow."

She turned quickly, and Holme now noticed that she stood just beside an automobile in which was seated a stranger. "Mr. Crenshaw," she said, "this is Mr. Richard Holme, my fiancé."

Stone faced, without as much as a flicker of an eyelash, Holme acknowledged the introduction. Crenshaw was eying him grimly. Evidently this broad shouldered youth with the bronze of warm climes on his beardless cheeks did not appeal to him. "Silly brute," thought Holme as the tubby little middle aged one merely nodded in response to the other's polite acknowledgment.

And meanwhile Beth Allen, tall, slim and handsome as ever, was babbling of things beyond the ken of the youth— "his handsome present," "this letter" and other allusions too subtle for the comprehension of Holme. He eyed the girl keenly. She seemed sane, and there were in those clear, well deep eyes only a boundless delight and enthusiasm over the wanderer's return.

Flashed! Beth Allen had refused to marry him seven years before, and this had resulted in the man's voluntary exile. Now she referred to him as her fiancé!

Truly explanations were needed. His old love of the girl had pulsed instantly into life again as her warm hands met his. His travels had been useless.

"You must get in," Beth was chattering on. "I am done with my shopping, and we will return to the house. Boynton, home." This last to the chauffeur. Not a word of explanation came from Beth as the machine silently sped over the frost jeweled streets, but she talked continually of everything—everything but what Holme wanted most to know. In due time they drove up in front of her home, and the three dismounted and entered.

"Ha, Holme!" There was genuine pleasure in the voice of old Major Allen as he strode forward to clasp the hand of the errant in his warm grasp. "Quite a surprise! We didn't expect you until tomorrow. Glad, sir, it seems good to see you!"

The eyes of the youth were on the maid, and he knew in his heart that he wanted her more than he had ever wanted her before. But now she was silent. As her father continued talking one little hand patted a dusky strand back into the ebony mass of her hair. She was beautiful. She was more to be desired than ever.

"And to think," the major was saying, his fine old face alight, "that you and my little girl here have been engaged all these years and we knew nothing about it. Well, I am glad, Holme; extremely glad. There is no one in the world whom I would rather she would have."

The gray veteran had a most sincere admiration for Holme that had manifested itself directly after the youth had "done things" at the battle of San Juan Hill.

Through all the conversation following Crenshaw was almost boorishly quiet. He responded to questions in throaty monosyllables. His brow wore a heavy frown. All in all, Holme thought Crenshaw a clog to the joyousness of the evening. He wished that he would go, and finally this is just what Crenshaw did. After making his adieu to the girl and her father the sullen one turned to Holme. "I suppose I will see you again?" he drawled, a sneer in his voice.

"I doubt it," returned Holme, extending his hand, "at least not right away. I have been gone for some time, and—er—I shall devote the most of my time to my fiancée, and after our marriage we have planned an extended trip."

He looked across at the girl to see how she accepted this Munchausen flight. She smiled.

After the departure of the discomfited Crenshaw the old major left the room. Holme turned curiously to the girl. She was gazing at him, shame in her eyes and the bright red spots coming and going high on her cheeks.

"I can explain," she began eagerly. "Honestly, Dick, I can explain."

"Take it easy, Beth," soothed the young man, half afraid the girl would become hysterical. "There are really no explanations needed unless you want to tell. I am only too glad to let the matter continue just as it is."

The girl gazed at him with eloquent eyes. "Do you really mean that—after this? After this brazen thing I have done can you marry me?"

"Can I?" exclaimed Holme. "Try me and see!"

"Listen!" began the girl. "I am going to tell you all. Years ago, Dick, when I refused you, I fully expected to marry you later. I thought you would ask me again, and you didn't. "Since you went away father somehow came to the belief that I had refused you in order to sacrifice myself to him. I have been doubly affectionate toward him since my mother died—poor old man—but he looked upon my continued—er—coldness toward matrimony with distress, and to alleviate this I told him that I was engaged to you; that we were to be married upon your return from India."

"I didn't think that he would mention it to a soul. I thought I had cautioned him that it was a secret engagement, but it seems I did not, and I verily believe that he has told it a dozen times to every one who has called here during your absence."

"It was terribly embarrassing to me, but I knew you, and I hoped in the event of your returning single—that was the biggest boggy—you would acknowledge the engagement and then later I would release you."

"I shall not accept a release," murmured Holme.

The girl continued: "Crenshaw has been a most persistent suitor. He has money—millions—but no manners." She shuddered. "Oh, I never could marry that man, but—but I believe he guessed my secret. He used to smile whenever your name was mentioned and leer—positively leer—at me. I hated him, but I was afraid."

"You can imagine with what mingled feelings I saw you as we came from that store. I waited for you at the curb. I—I couldn't do otherwise. Besides, I wished to show that persistent Crenshaw that at least I knew you."

"Then I became bolder, and I introduced you as my fiancée." The girl's face was crimson. "And now," she finished sadly, "we must cancel the engagement. I—I can't literally throw myself at your head, you know, and then accept your whole soul offer to let the farce continue."

"But it isn't a farce," protested the man. "I love you, and I want you to marry me if you will. Why, dearest, that is why I came home."

He strode over to the girl and lifted her chin until her eyes were level with his.

"Thank God!" he said and kissed her.

A WHITE CHRISTMAS.

THERE is one way to make a white Christmas even though there may be not a flake of snow in sight. Let the whiteness be in your heart. Put aside all thoughts of guile. Forget all the big or little bitternesses you may be entertaining against some other person. Cast out all envy, all covetousness, all unkindness. Endeavor to harbor in your heart only such thoughts and feelings as the Nazarene knew when he dwelt by Galilee. Cultivate human brotherhood. Practice Christian charity. Look beyond and above your workaday horizon. Get out of yourself. Get into the hearts of others.

Then you will be sure of a white Christmas this year.

Remember that when your kidneys are affected, your life is in danger. M. Mayer, Rochester, N. Y., says: "My trouble started with a sharp shooting pain over my back which grew worse daily. I felt sluggish and tired, my kidney action was irregular and infrequent. I started using Foley Kidney Pills. Each dose seemed to put new life and strength into me, and now I am completely cured and feel better and stronger than for years. Gilbert's drug store."

INS AND OUTS.

"What's the noise?" asked the visitor in the apartment house. "Probably some one in the dentist's apartments on the floor below getting a tooth out."

"But this seemed to come from the floor above."

"Ah, then it's probably the Poppley's baby getting a tooth in."—Catholic Standard and Times.

No false pretense has marked the career of Ely's Cream Balm. Being entirely harmless, it is not responsible like the catarrh snuffs and powders, for minds shattered by cocaine. The great virtue of Ely's Cream Balm is that it speedily and completely overcomes nasal catarrh and hay fever. Back of this statement is the testimony of thousands and a reputation of many years' success. All druggists, 50c, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

What is the hardest work you do?

"My hardest work," replied Senator Sorghum, "is trying to look like my photographs and talk like my speeches when I get back to my home town."—Washington Star.

Foley Kidney Pills are tonic in action, quick in results, and restore the natural action to the kidneys and bladder. They correct irregularities. Gilbert's drug store.

An engaged girl is kissed a great deal more than a married woman.

Nero Fiddled While Rome Was Burning

"Criminal indifference" you say. And you are right. But how much worse is it than what you are doing every day? You have read these advertisements of the Fire Insurance Agency for a year or more, telling you that you ought to know all about the company that carries your fire insurance, but have you done anything about it? Many have, but the majority of policy-holders have done nothing about the selection of a company. They are still "fiddling."

In the history of fire insurance in America, a large majority of the fire insurance companies organized have failed or retired from business. To be insured in companies like Weil's, that have been in business a hundred years and will be in business a hundred years from now, costs no more than to be insured in one that may go out of business next week.

NEW LAW CODIFICATION.

Taft Gets Important Volume From Montreal Man.

Washington, Dec. 20.—President Taft, the members of the cabinet and all of the diplomatic representatives of foreign nations at Washington lately have received copies of a monumental work by Jerome Interboschia, of Montreal, entitled "New Code of International Law." The volume contains more than 5,000 articles, each in three languages, English, French and Italian—in parallel columns, dealing with all of the matters which might be the subject of international negotiations and litigation. To a large extent it is a codification of the present body of international law.

The volume is dedicated "To all the chiefs of state in the world, and to the heads and other dignitaries of the Christian church in the hope that all will co-operate to bring about the era of universal peace foreshadowed by this code."

Worse than an alarm of fire at night is the metallic cough of croup, brining dread to the household. Careful mothers keep Foley's Honey and Tar in the house and give it at the first sign of danger. It contains no opiates. Gilbert's Drug Store.

While French railroad builders were digging a tunnel recently a fossil snag was unearthed in clay 100 feet below the surface of the ground.

GET THE GENUINE ALWAYS.

A substitute is a dangerous makeshift especially in medicine. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar cures coughs and colds quickly and is in a yellow package. Accept no substitutes. Gilbert's drug store.

In one day recently seven thousand persons arrived in New York from the official charts.

TAFT OFFERS WARSHIP TO CONVEY BODY TO CHILE.

Had Attended Banquet Retired in Good Health, but Stricken with Heart Failure.

Washington, Dec. 19.—Senor Don Anibal Cruz, envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary from Chile to the United States, was stricken with heart failure at 3:45 this morning and died ten minutes later. He had attended the banquet of the American Society for the Judicial Settlement of International Disputes last night, and had retired apparently in good health. When he was stricken physicians were hastily summoned, but the end came before they arrived. President Taft and Secretary Knox called at the Chilean legation in the afternoon and offered Senor Don Alberto Yocham, charge d'affaires of the embassy, the use of an American battle ship for transporting the body to Chile. The president and secretary expressed the hope that the body might be returned to Chile under the American flag.

Diplomats See Body.

This information was cabled to the Chilean government by Senor Yocham, who said tonight he expected an answer tomorrow. The funeral services will be held at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning at St. Patrick's Cathedral and the body will be temporarily interred. Almost all the members of the diplomatic corps and many government officials viewed the body today, offering their condolences to Senor De Cruz and the members of the Chilean legation.

Senor Cruz was 45 years old and had returned to the United States but a month ago from Chile, having visited there after attending the Pan-American congress at Buenos Ayres last summer. Senor Yocham, charged d'affaires of the legation, was to have left for Chile on leave of absence tomorrow, but today canceled all arrangements and probably will be here indefinitely, pending the appointment of a new minister.
